WINNING ALTERNATIVES

The fifth new ALT competition was full of fascinating deals. Here are four that contained points of interest:

Round 2

Board 2. Dealer East. NS Vul.

♠ A 9 7 2	♠ Q J	♠ K 10 8 4
♥ A J 6 5	♥ K 4	♥ Q 9 7 3 2

With a double fit there is an excellent chance that EW will reach game - but will they make it?

North led the ♦K and declarer won with the ace and played two rounds of hearts, North winning with the king and switching to the ♣Q. When dummy's king held declarer came to hand with a heart and ducked a club, South winning with the jack and switching to the ♠6 for the two, queen and king. Declarer exited with the ♣9 and North, who had already played the ♣10, exited with the four. Declarer won with the eight, crossed to the ♥Q and ran the ♠10, going one down when it lost.

2♥ Both majors, weak

The Editor penned a chapter on using 2♥ to show both majors in The Mysterious Multi. South led the ♣J and North won with the ace and continued with the queen, declarer winning with the king and playing a heart for the jack and king. North cashed the ♣10 and continued with the four and declarer ruffed with the ♥Q and played a heart to the ace. He then cashed the ♠A and played a second spade, +590 and 12 IMPs.

West led the ♠7 and East won with the king and switched to the ♦3, West winning with the ace,

South led the ♠3 for the two, jack and king and declarer cashed dummy's red aces and played a second heart, North winning and exiting with two rounds of clubs. In due course declarer had to tackle the spade suit and he ran the ten, which meant a loss of 4 IMPs.

North led the ♠Q followed by the ten, South winning and switching to the ♦J. Declarer won with the king and played a diamond to the ace, South discarding the ♠4 which meant declarer was now an entry short to establish the hearts. He drew the outstanding trump and played the ♥8. When North covered with the queen, declarer was back in the game. He won, cashed the ♥K and played the ten. When South followed with the seven declarer was at the cross-roads. He decided to ruff and that meant he had to lose a club at the end, -100 and a 6 IMP swing.

North led the ♦A and declarer ruffed and played a heart to the ace and a heart, drew the remaining trump and then cashed the top clubs. A spade to the king lost but there were eleven tricks, +450.

Sixteen pairs played in 4♥, and opening 4♥ was selected six times.

With a robust second suit and a void West's description of his opening bid was right on the money! North led the ♦K and declarer ruffed, cashed the top clubs and then played hearts, claiming all the tricks, +750 and 7 IMPs. Note that if EW can find their diamond ruffs (not easy) they can collect 1100 against 4♠.

West's overcall à la Lawrence saw East make a nod to Larry Cohen with his 'law-abiding' leap to 4♥. North led the ♠J and South won with the queen, cashed the king and then played the ace, declarer ruffing with the ♥J and exiting with the ♦10. North took the ace and returned the ♣8 for the queen, king and ace and declarer ruffed a diamond and played a heart for the queen and king, claiming nine tricks, -200 and a gain of 6 IMPs.

It was a fine example of that rare occurrence, a paying vulnerable save.

FIT MATTERS

Martin Cantor

Let's start with a bidding question. As dealer with all vulnerable, what do you open holding:

♠ A Q ♥ A 8 4 3 ♦ A Q 10 8 6 ♣ A 6 ?

Twenty very good Miltons in a generally balanced hand. 'Very good' because you have all the aces and a nice five-card suit. Of course if you play some sort of strong club your opening bid is easy, but the question then applies to how you intend to bid the hand on the next round. I have to confess that in my regular partnerships I would plan to show this as balanced 21-22 or thereabouts, and so did many of the players who held the hand. But a fair number chose to open 1♦, perhaps reflecting the modern trend to ever-lighter responses. The advantage of opening 2NT is that it inhibited a big club preempt from your LHO. The disadvantage is that it often led to not discovering the diamond fit and so playing 3NT instead of any of the small or even grand slams available. Enough preamble, here's the hand:

Match 1 Board 7. S/All

♠ 9 6 5		♠ K J 2

Single dummy you'd want to be in 6♦, making when the spade finesse works, or hearts are 3-3, or diamonds are 2-2, or some other lesser chances. With the first two of those conditions in force you make an overtrick in 6♦ despite the 4-0 trump break, and you can also make a nervous 6NT - not to mention an unlikely-ever-to-be-bid grand slam in hearts, as long as South plays it. Six pairs got to 6♦, three of them opening 2NT and three opening 1♦. Chechelashvili-Gu got to 6♥ and Fredin-Apteker to 7♦, both on auctions which to an outside observer look unconvincing, but gaining 13 and 16 IMPs respectively. Huber-Van der Starre of team Herresi got to 6♠ by South, but when West Lightnered this they removed to 6NT which East in turn doubled, meaning 1680 and 14 IMPs. The rest played in game, mostly 3NT, a few in 5♦ or 4♥.

"Spades is the boss suit". "Majors outrank minors". Well yes, but not quite always. Unless playing a Strong Club, South opened 1♠ and West overcalled 2♦. I said about the previous hand that responses are ever lighter, so I was surprised that a majority of Norths passed that. I agree you don't have enough for a negative double (though some did), but don't you want to raise to 2♠ with that nice ruffing value?

Whatever North chose to do, a lively auction ensued just about everywhere, especially where both sides discovered their double fits. At exactly half of the 28 tables NS played hearts, mostly at the five level and often doubled. Twelve EWs played diamonds, once at the three level, twice the six level, else the game level. And two played 5♣, which is the par contract. Before we see how all the contracts fared, let's just examine how they fare on best play and (more importantly) best defense. Nobody played it, but 4♠ is off on heart ruffs plus two top minor suit tricks. What about 4♥? There are five spades, and four hearts after the 4-0 break, so one ruff in South brings you to 10 tricks - only it doesn't, because once you take that ruff East can cut you off from the long spades. Ten tricks were made a number of times when EW persisted in diamonds, and that included two happy declarers in 4♥, one of them even happier as he had been doubled.

What about EW minor suit contracts? Ten top tricks in the minors, so you just need a ruff to make game. If you play in diamonds the ruff has to be of a spade, and the defense can prevail by repeated trump leads. Which is a tough defense to find, and indeed nobody did, so three declarers in 5♦ and five in 5♦X were also happy. As were the two in 5♣ where you simply need to ruff a heart, the club spots being high enough to cope with the 4-1 break. So this board may challenge the received wisdoms about the suits' relative dominance, but it does reinforce another received wisdom: there are often more tricks in the 4-4 fit than the 5-4 (or, as here, 6-4). As we shall see again in this next deal.

Do you want to be in a grand slam on this hand? In spades you don't, since it needs the club finesse to be working. But what about in hearts? That's rather better. If you can ruff two diamonds the losing club goes on the long spade, and if you can only get one diamond ruff you still have the club finesse in reserve, the long spade taking care of the other little diamond. But getting to ruff two diamonds might not be so easy unless they lead one, since your communications are somewhat tenuous. On a classic trump lead you want to win in South to take the first ruff, but now you will end up ruffing with a high heart, so if trumps are 4-1 you are in trouble. Your only other route back to the South hand is in spades, and relying on a 2-2 break there isn't going to calm your nerves. The heart grand slam was never put to the test, since most of the pairs got locked into spades early on, and played the small slam there (apart from one bold pair who pushed all the way to 7♠). Just three pairs managed to play in the superior strain, but all at the six level.

When East opens a 15-17 notrump, what will you do with the West cards? A decent 8 count with an ace and a king and some useful looking intermediates, but a discouraging shape. Sure, if you have a 4-4 heart fit, and no wasted soft values in spades, then game beckons, especially vulnerable. In commentary I said that I thought the odds were against both of those, and I added that, as the late great and much lamented Roland Wald was fond of reminding us all, 15 HCP is about twice as likely as 17. So I concluded that I thought I would pass. None of the Wests who actually held the cards agreed with me, and almost everyone played notrump. Nineteen of them in 2NT when an invitation was declined, but seven in game, sometimes when West simply bid game after checking for majors, others where East accepted an invitation. So much for the bidding, what about the play? West has only eight tricks in notrump, but East has nine as any opening lead from South is helpful. That is to say, East can always make nine, but it isn't easy, and only three of the seven succeeded. Let's see how Steve Weinstein managed it.

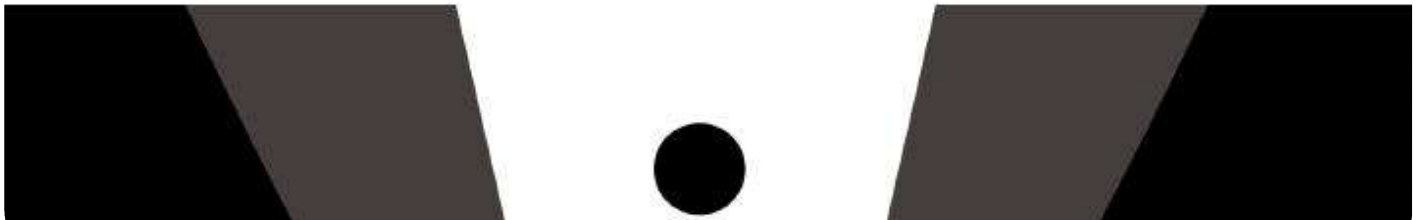

West	North	East	South
Levin	Hurd	Weinstein	Bathurst
Pass	Pass	1NT	Pass
3♠*	Pass	3NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

3♠ 1444

Bathurst led the ♠6 taken by the queen. Nine tricks look a long way out, but maybe you can get three clubs and two in each of the other suits. It's also one of those classic notrump hands where any lead from the defense (especially from South) might help. So declarer's next move was the ♦6 to the jack, king and ace, making two tricks in this suit a distinct possibility. The ♠9 came back and Weinstein took his ace to prevent South playing that suit further. He continued diamonds and Bathurst took his queen and played his other diamond, to avoid being thrown in with it on the next round to lead away from a black suit. With two tricks now in the bag in each pointed suit it was time to develop the second heart trick, and to get to dummy to get the clubs going. Declarer needs the ♥K

THE WORST BID IN BRIDGE

After a 2♦ Multi opening bid it is common practice to respond 2♠ with a decent hand and a heart fit. Already some 25 years ago Jan Jansma qualified this 2♠ as the worst bid in bridge. It denies a spade fit so if the opener retreats to hearts you have told your opponents that they have at least eight spades in the combined hands. It also denies a hand good enough for a strong relay, so basically you have invited them to bid 4♠. This is exactly what happened on board 8 of round 4:

Round 4. Board 8. Dealer West. None Vul.

As soon as he heard that EW had a heart fit Andrew Robson jumped to 4♠. This sounded like music to the ears of Alexander Allfrey who raised him to 6♠. Jerry Stamatov did well not to double because the slam was cold. Robson ruffed the opening lead of the ♦A, ruffed the ♥Q with the ♠Q and played the ♠K. East ducked, won the next spade and returned a diamond. Declarer ruffed, drew the last trump and advanced the ♣J. When the king appeared, he claimed twelve tricks: a splendid 980.

Team Orca lost 3 IMPs on the board as this happened at the other table:

Crouch	Gupta	Cooke	Korbel
2♥*	3♣	4♥	6♣
Pass	Pass	Dbl	Pass

Play was even quicker here: ♦A ruffed, club jack-king-ace, ♣Q and claim: 1090.

"Lucky", Naren Gupta wrote in the chat. Peter Crouch complimented him: "Overcalling 3♣ worked great." Gupta: "Yes, I was going to bid 3/4♠ next."

In none of the fourteen matches this was a push board. In total 134 IMPs changed hands. The NS scores varied from plus 1210 (6♠ X =) to minus 800 (5♦ X -4).

WITH A LITTLE HELP

Toine van Hoof

Enver Koksoy (team Salvo) was the only declarer who, with a little help from his friends, brought in a 4♠ contract on board 13 of round 1.

Alon Apteker led his fifth best diamond against West's 4♠ contract. Declarer won the ♦10 with the ace, crossed to the ♣A and ran the ♠Q. Then he played the ♠J, which also held. Now Koksoy made the fine play of ruffing a diamond before drawing the last trump, South discarding a diamond. He then took the club finesse, losing to the queen. At the tables where declarer still had two trumps left, North now returned a heart for a dull down one. Here a heart return would have resulted in down two. However, Peter Fredin realized that if declarer had king-jack of hearts, a diamond return was necessary to give the defense a chance. It would force declarer to make the right guess in the heart suit later in the play. So he continued with ♦K, depriving declarer from his last trump in this ending:

♦ K

	 N W E S
♥ A J 6
♦ Q 7

If East after ruffing crosses to the ♣K and plays a heart to the king he is still two off. But Koksoy had other plans. He knew from the bidding that South had the ♥A as North would have opened a twelve count. So after crossing to the ♣K he endplayed South with the ♦Q. Apteker had to lead from his ♥A and declarer made the ♥K and ♣J: plus 620 and a gain of 12 IMPs for Salvo.

It cannot be a coincidence that Fredin is an anagram of 'friend', but Koksoy's best friend here was Apteker. In the given ending he should have jettisoned the ♦Q. Declarer gets a free trick with the ♦J but has to lose the last three tricks for down one.

MOSS HIGHLIGHTS

Toine van Hoof

The neutral spectators were looking forward to an exciting final of the Alt NewCo 5, with the initially leading Moss team having dropped to second with three rounds to go. Sylvia Moss and her team, the winners of four earlier Alt events, trailed the Nickell team by 11.33 VPs. They would meet in the last round. It turned out a formality. Moss crushed the Red Devils (19.77-0.23) and Donner (19.52-0.48), while Nickell got beatings from Black (2.97-17.03) and Edmonds (2.03-17.97).

So with a margin of over 20 VPs the Moss team could loosen up and start celebrating. It behooved them that they didn't. In a well-played match they beat Nickell by 23 IMPs (15.56-4.44).

Overly optimistic bidding brought Roger Lee and Sylvia Moss in 5♣ doubled. Geert Arts led the ♦5 to his partner's ace. Not expecting South to have a six-card suit, Steve De Roos tried to cash the ♦Q. Curtains. Lee ruffed, carefully preserving the ♣4, drew two rounds of trumps, unblocked the spades, crossed to the ♣5 and claimed an overtrick: 950 to EW.

There was no adverse bidding (1♠-2♠-4♠). The lead is the ♠2. East wins the ace and shifts to the ♣J. The finesse loses to the king. West returns a club to your ace. Take it from there.

What's the problem? You draw two rounds of trumps with the queen and the jack, East showing out and discarding two diamonds. You come to hand with a diamond, draw the last trump and claim. Would you do anything different if you were doubled? Or if this hand was presented to you in a bulletin?

No less than five declarers, of which three from Group A, went down when they sleepily tried to return to hand in diamonds and saw West ruff. If anything, the diamond discards should have woken them up (only Piotr Zatorski pitched a heart and a diamond as East).

Mike Graham earned 10 IMPs for team Cantor by, after cashing ♠J and ♠Q, carefully exiting with the ♥Q. West won the ♥A but could do no harm. And how about East having the ♥A and seven clubs? Impossible in the light of the bidding.
